FACT SHEET

The Advance AcroBatt™ is a cordless backpack vacuum ideal for cleaning obstacle-intensive areas and areas that lack convenient electrical outlets. Aisles, hallways, elevators, stairwells, and any facility that is occupied 24/7 can now be cleaned easier and without cord hassles by using the AcroBatt™. Not having an electrical cord to drag with the machine is the safe worry-free way to clean. An air diffuser in the AcroBatt™ reduces the air flow and noticeably lowers noise levels, resulting in satisfied building occupants, patrons, and operators. Cordless operation and low sound level are perfect for daytime cleaning.

The AcroBatt™ vacuum is designed for operator comfort with a wide, heavily-padded waist belt for maximum comfort and support. The dual battery system's weight is distributed near the operator's center of gravity for additional comfort. A patented, articulated joint means the machine bends and flexes with the operator for greater range of motion and comfort. Raised bumps on the top of the vacuum provide a gentle massage as the operator moves about. A unique lower ventilated panel separates the motor compartment from the operator to deflect hot air.

The AcroBatt™ is energized by two maintenance-free NiMH batteries. These powerful, yet lightweight batteries have repeatedly been a first-energy choice within the power tool industry. The batteries are charged with a "smart" charger technology that monitors battery voltage and temperature that adjusts the amperage output to maximize the life of the batteries. Compact as well as productive, the AcroBatt™ backpack vacuum can clean an impressive 30,000 square feet in its run time of up to 22 minutes.
